

ANNUAL BANQUET OF DEBATING SOCIETY; HIGH SCHOOL BOYS FEAST WITH FRIENDS

THE Sam Houston Debating Society of the El Paso high school gave its fourth annual banquet Wednesday night in the dining room of Hotel Paso del Norte.

Red carnations combined with asparagus ferns were gracefully arranged in Japanese baskets and placed at intervals down the center of the banquet table, which extended the full length of the main dining room. The place cards were ornamented with floral designs.

Harold Colwell, the retiring president of the society, presided as toastmaster. Fortunatus Magrader made the introductory talk, explaining the purpose of the annual banquet.

Paul McGowan, the incoming president, in his inaugural address outlined the activities he wished to carry out in the society during his administration, among these being the formation of a library and well kept records of the society and a permanent treasury fund, the interest from which might be used for the work of the society.

Eugene Thurston talked on the former social events of the society. Principal A. H. Hughes talked about the progress of the society during his administration, among these being the formation of a library and well kept records of the society and a permanent treasury fund, the interest from which might be used for the work of the society.

About El Pasoans.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. McNary, of Chamberlain, S. D., are the parents of a baby daughter born last week.

Blanford Promoted as Christmas Gift

Promoted for his work in neutrality and white slave cases in the El Paso office of the department of justice, will leave Sunday for Los Angeles, Cal., where he will become agent in charge of the division office of the department of justice.

During the two years that he has been in charge of the local office of the department, Mr. Blanford has worked up some of the most famous neutrality and white slave cases that have ever been tried in the federal courts. He obtained evidence against a large number of alleged neutrality violators during the time that he was in charge here, including the Miguel Diez case, that against E. C. Lorens and other well known border Mexicans. He was also active in the prosecution of the ammunition smuggling cases.

Blanford came here from San Antonio, after being stationed in Fort Worth and Dallas. Prior to his arrival in Texas he was connected with the department of justice in Washington.
